

STATEMENT OF SUPPORT

Advanced Micro Devices, Inc. (AMD) has been a member of Customs Trade Partnership Against Terrorism (CTPAT) program since 2009 and remains committed to ensuring a safe and secure supply chain.

This statement of support is guided by our basic core values, code of conduct, business ethics and supply chain security standards. It guides and reflects the way that AMD and our subsidiaries operate throughout the supply chain in fighting terrorism, contraband, human smuggling and drug trafficking.

AMD's executive leadership and management are committed to complying with the CTPAT's Minimum Security Criteria (MSC) and upholding the program's security statements. As part of our participation in the program, AMD is committed to the following:

- Implementing policies and procedures to ensure the secure movement of AMD's merchandise that are imported into the United States;
- Implementing policies and procedures to ensure the security of all of AMD's facilities;
- Implementing corrective actions to address any deficiencies identified in AMD's CTPAT security programs;
- Conducting an annual review of AMD's CTPAT program and procedures to identify and make necessary updates;
- Providing training and guidance to AMD's employees regarding CTPAT policies;
- Providing a safe and secure environment for AMD's employees and merchandise; and
- Notifying and cooperating with CBP and/or law enforcement agencies in the case of a supply chain security breach or other suspicious activity.

AMD, its employees, contractors, subcontractors, agents, vendors, suppliers, partners and others with whom AMD conducts business are required by our policies to comply with all supply chain security best practices. Any violation of these policies could result in disciplinary action, up to and including, removal from a contract, termination of a business relationship, or termination of employment, subject to applicable law. Violation of applicable laws may result in criminal prosecution of responsible individuals. Working together with Customs is integral to AMD's CTPAT program and our overall security. Thank you for your assistance and cooperation.

Sincerely,
